

Transfer on Death Account:

In almost all states, it is possible to own bank or brokerage accounts in your name with the provision that on your death whatever is in the account is transferred to St. Francis Animal Rescue of Venice. You have complete control over the account during your lifetime with the satisfaction of knowing that you have chosen a simple way to continue helping St. Francis Animal Rescue of Venice help the cats in our community.